

Rev. Dr. Jaime Clark-Soles is Professor of New Testament and Altshuler Distinguished Teaching Professor at Perkins School of Theology, Southern Methodist University. She also serves as the Director of the Baptist House of Studies at Perkins. She received her B.A. from Stetson University focusing on both Philosophy and Russian Studies. She earned her M.Div. from Yale Divinity School and her Ph.D. in New Testament from Yale University.

Dr. Clark-Soles specializes in:

- The Johannine Literature (the Gospel of John; 1, 2, and 3 John; and Revelation)
- Psychedelics and Christianity
- Evil, Suffering, Death, and Afterlife
- Disability Studies and the Bible
- Women in the Bible
- Immersion trips to Israel, Palestine, Greece, and Turkey

She has written numerous essays and six books. Her most recent books are:

- Reading John for Dear Life: A Spiritual Walk with the Fourth Gospel
- Women in the Bible
- 1 Corinthians: Searching the Depths of God

She is currently working on two more: Psychedelics and Soul Care: What Christians Need to Know (under contract with Eerdmans) and The Agony, the Ecstasy, and the Ordinary: Experiencing God in the New Testament.

Dr. Clark-Soles serves as a Field Scholar for the Emory Center for Psychedelics and Spirituality and is an active member of the Transforming Chaplaincy Psychedelic Care Network. She is certified in Psychedelic Assisted Therapies and Research through the California Institute of Integral Studies (CIIS).

As an ordained American Baptist minister, she has served in both congregational and hospice settings. She is a Navy brat and enjoys travel and triathlons. For more information, visit her website at jaimeclarksoles.com.